

White Label Internet

High-performing internet for your customers.
A powerful business opportunity for you.

Ready to add a new revenue stream to your business?

Customers are loyal to brands they love – so why not give your customers even more to adore?

Take advantage of this opportunity in a switchers' market to offer a new service for your customers. White Label Internet provides a brilliant opportunity to diversify your offerings with internet services. Enhance your brand and add a new revenue stream with premium internet that's a credit to your company – backed by Telstra InfraCo

Welcome to an easier way to sell internet

Partner with Telstra InfraCo for a simple path to enter the home internet market. You can sell internet services under your brand name – whether you're a supermarket, online retailer or subscription-based service. Add nbn® internet plans to your website or offer a pick-up-and-go subscription at the checkout.

We'll provide ease and reliability from initial sign-up to the end-customer experience by managing qualification, order and delivery of services – so your team can focus on your customers.

Deepen your existing customer relationships and win new customers by offering home internet services through a company they know and love – yours.

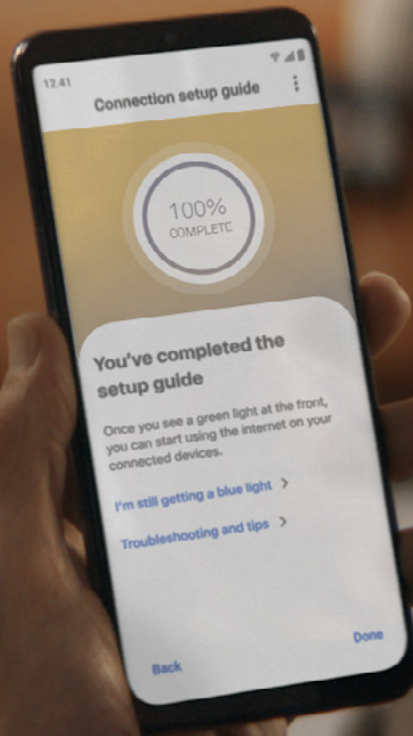

Deliver a top-quality experience

Maximise your customers' internet experience with market-leading CVC dimensioning on the nbn®.

Telstra's network management and CVC buying power helps ensure service quality is as high as possible, even during peak times.

Grow a new revenue stream with White Label Internet

Brand White Label Internet as your own and have confidence in a premium wholesale service reflecting Telstra InfraCo's expertise gained over decades.

Manage it your way

We know the importance of exceptional customer service when your name is on the product. With White Label Internet, you'll always be in control of your customer relationship.

We will provide you with simple-to-use APIs to integrate with your existing customer relationship management and billing systems to power your customers' sign-up experience.

Your sales team can quickly qualify and order services and we'll deliver them. If compatible devices are in place, a service can be activated in as little as 10 minutes.

We'll also provide you with a user-friendly management system to help keep you and your customers informed. Your support teams can manage and troubleshoot services with powerful diagnostic tools to help ensure a top-notch experience for your customers.
